President's Corner: Women Leadership—Next Generation—Hope

Throughout the month of March, WFP USA was engaged in almost back to back events, all in the context of Women's History Month. During this time we have seen and taken part in an unprecedented number of women's programs compared to previous years. Why? You can find out for yourself if you immerse yourself in this month's issue, and take time to listen to some of the actual program recordings. You may then see what I am talking about, as you find many nuggets of wisdom, new insights, enlightenment, information and a new vision...

How Young Women Seek to Contribute to Peace: GWPN "The Next Generation"

The Global Women's Peace Network USA (GWPN), a project of Women's Federation for World Peace, celebrated Women's History Month with its second "Women's Leadership in Reconciliation and Peacemaking" speakers forum. The theme and session content was centered on uplifting "The Next Generation" of women peace leaders. The forum featured two exceptional speakers from diverse backgrounds, a calligraphy performance, breakout sessions for reflection and networking, as well as commentary on the Mother of Peace memoir. The program took place on March 26, 2021, with over 81 attending the session live.

Blessing

Be patient, sister
Your blessing is coming
Wait for it like summer waits for snow
like desert waits for rain
Be patient, sister, it is coming
As surely as redemption
As fiercely as fire...

"The Role of Women Business Leaders in Creating a Healthy and Sustainable Economy"

In recognition of Women's History Month, this event on "The Role of Women Business Leaders in Creating a Healthy and Sustainable Economy" was conceived and planned as a collaboration between the International Association for Peace and Economic Development \(IAED\) and the Women's Federation for World Peace USA. The power of women gathering for a cause was evident as the moderator began the conference with nearly 80 participants online on March 25, 2021. The event was live-streamed on Facebook to the IAED, UPF and WFP Facebook pages tripling that number.

Mr. Alan Jessen, Coordinator of IAED North America, gave opening comments and welcomed the panelists. The power of the moderator, Mrs. Audra Haji, kept the flow of the conference tight and upbeat throughout the roughly 90 minute program. Ms. Haji is the CEO of Angel Investors Network. Her company has helped nearly 3,000 businesses launch, grow and scale for success...

"Not to Compete, But to Complete Each Other"

After attending, "The Role of Women Business Leaders in Creating a Healthy and Sustainable Economy", program with the Women's Federation for World Peace USA, there is no doubt in my mind that this organization will help guide the world toward peace. The stories the women shared of how they built the foundations of their successful companies and organizations; by leaning on the vision of leading their lives with a culture of heart to serve the needs of others was inspiring because, in this day and age, you do not tend to hear such messages of positivity where the heart is the center of one's purpose. Dr. Vorias's statement about the importance of courage was touching because heart-driven courage produces great leaders who help change the world for good.

Walking for Health—WFP DC Chapter celebrates Women History Month with a #FitDC HerStory Virtual 5K Run

Every year our local chapter celebrates International Women's Day and Women's History Month with health seminars or yoga classes to empower women's health. This year because of the Covid19 regulations, we decided to join Mayor Muriel Bowser (District of Columbia mayor) in the #FitDC HerStory Virtual 5K Run which was held on Saturday March 20, 2021. This was organized by the Mayor and her partners...

Women as Leaders: Building Community—A GWPN Event in Northern California

On Saturday March 13, 2021, Northern California WFP chapter held its first Global Women's Peace Network webinar "Women as Leaders: Building Community." Our guest speaker, Maree Gauper, introduced us to her journey of becoming active in her local community through town events and racial dialogue. Beginning with the statement, "We need to end racism," Ms. Gauper said that although we may all agree with this statement, we may wonder what one person can do to make a difference. Her goal was to give us insight and inspiration on how we can do just that...

Finding Humanity in Times of Distress

On March 27, 2021, Jennifer Jordan met with the WFP Hackensack, New Jersey chapter via zoom to share about how she serves her community during this pandemic. Jennifer Jordan is an award-winning author, filmmaker, and screenwriter.

Jennifer shared about her current job as Covid-19 contact tracer in Salt Lake City, Utah. Jennifer explained that she loved the job as she greets each car and makes sure they have their papers ready to get their shot from their car or walk-in-center. Jennifer says "We are all social animals and we are a community. We need one another." She can see the fear and anguish in people's eyes as they pull up in their cars. She tries to make a mini relationship with them to encourage them...
