President's Corner

Dear friends,

"Women can do anything and resolve any problem with a Mother's Heart!"

These are words from our WFWP International President, Prof. Yeon Ah Moon, during a recent board meeting.

As we conclude this year with the holiday season, we wish everyone a most harmonious and happy time together with your family and loved ones...

Family traditions around the world: WFWP Montana concludes an exciting first year

Out on the Great Plains is the large town of Billings, Montana, cradled in a prehistoric bowl which once was an inland sea. Circling above the city are The Rims, and these tall cliffs offer a stunning vantage point of downtown Billings, the Yellowstone River, Montana State University, the Doubletree Inn, and Phillips 66 Oil Refinery...

A SHARECROP FAMILY CHRISTMAS

FOR CHRISTMAS IN THE 50'S,
A TREE WAS ALWAYS CUT,
THEN PLACED INSIDE OUR OLE FARM HOUSE
AND 9 KIDS DRESSED IT UP.

NO FANCY LIGHTS OR RIBBONS
WERE HUNG UPON OUR TREE,
NO STORE-BOUGHT DECORATIONS
WERE THERE FOR ALL TO SEE!...

Muslim women breaking down barriers: WFWP Hackensack, NJ organizes cultural gathering

If you live in northern Jersey, you know that it is a very ethnically diverse community. Living in the midst of such diversity, you come across opportunities to learn about other cultures from around the world. Cynthia Nakai, WFWP Hackensack, NJ chairwoman, was impressed by one particular lady from Pakistan, Mrs. Malik Irim, who spoke about Pakistani customs and values during a children's program at the Little Ferry Library earlier this year. She was so inspired, in fact, that she invited Mrs. Irim to speak at a local WFWP luncheon...

Buddha, The Messenger of Peace

O, buried for 2,500 years
O, hiding soul
And hiding your golden truth
Listen...
Listen... to my hesitant voice
Listen... this is the right time...

Food is Love: WFWP Texas spreads Thanksgiving cheer

As we were approaching the end of the year, the Thanksgiving holiday was the ideal occasion to show that food is love. Of all the food banks in the area, we chose to partner with the City Thanksgiving Square food bank in downtown Dallas because of the admirable work they do to reduce the effects of poverty...
