President's Corner: "It Is In Giving That We Receive"

Dear families and friends,
I hope you had a most meaningful, safe, and enjoyable THANKSGIVING with family and friends!
May I share some thoughts on gratitude and family as we continue to proceed into the holiday season?
Have you ever wondered why every human being is longing for family, friends, a happy home, children's voices and parent's loving eyes watching them grow—why is this desire deeply engraved in us all, and where is it coming from?
I dare say that this deep, almost irresistible longing for belonging comes from no one other than our loving Creator, the Parent of all humankind, who instituted the one and only institution common to all humanity: the Family—husband, wife, children, and grandchildren....

Preparing Kits for Disaster Relief—National Initiative

WFWP is partnering with International Relief Friendship Foundation (IRFF) to support families in Florida who were impacted by the devastation of Hurricane Ian. IRFF was also founded by Father and Mother Moon to respond to disasters with a loving heart.
While disaster response is fairly costly work, IRFF partners with agencies and responds in small but meaningful ways that do what they can to help people that are often neglected by the "big boys" of the industry. So IRFF has worked extensively with a well-experienced organization, Christian Disaster Response (CDR), and Dr. Ron Patterson who has more than 50 years experience and was formerly a trainer of National Red Cross workers.
There's a very simple way anyone can help these families who are facing this extraordinary crisis!...

READY, SET, BAKE: HOW TO THROW A HOLIDAY COOKIE PARTY

Do you love baking and trying new recipes but don't have time to bake different batches of cookies during the holiday season? Throw a cookie party with your WFWP chapter or a group of friends! Each guest can choose a different recipe and bring a batch to share at the party. I've hosted a cookie party for the past few years, and it is always a lovely way to spend time with friends and family.
Here are some ideas to make your cookie party fun and stress-free!

To prepare for the party, make a list of guests. Consider how much space you have and how many people you can accommodate comfortably to make sure everyone has space. If possible, try communicating with guests to decide the best possible date. Have guests tell you which cookie they plan to bake to avoid duplicates at the party.
