Happy month of July! Here is to One Nation and One Global Family under God!

CLIFTON NEW JERSEY RAISES THE WFWP FLAG

A green and yellow emblem set against a white background waved proudly in the sky among a sea of red, white and blue on July Fourth this year. Claire Haider, WFWP Chairwoman of Paterson, New Jersey, looked up with joy in her heart as she walked by. Through her determined efforts, the WFWP flag was raised on a tall flagpole outside the Clifton City Hall for seven days.

The city of Clifton has a long-standing tradition of displaying flags outside its city hall, in particular the large collection of US flags honoring veterans that is exhibited five times a year on the well-known Avenue of Flags. While the vast majority are US flags, every now and then there is a special flag-raising ceremony for a particular nation or group. After seeing the flag of another organization being displayed recently, Claire decided to go to the city hall herself and inquire how WFWP could also apply to have their flag raised...

OPENING OUR HEARTS IN BEAUTIFUL SAVANNAH

Our WFWP Georgia chapter was inspired by the Leadership of the Heart (LOH) curriculum and after experiencing it over a series of Saturdays in late 2017 and early 2018, we decided that the content would be even more impactful in a retreat setting. It took us a while to put our plan into action but when a weekend opened up at the Wesley Gardens Retreat in Savannah, everything began to fall into place...

The right to education. Since the destructive 15-year civil war in Mozambique ended in 1992, there has been a serious lack of secondary schools for the nation's children, which makes it very difficult for any child to progress to university. High school and university education means students gain the skills they need to be employable, lessening the likelihood of poverty. Education also proves to be a key factor in a person's level of resilience and adaptability...

PLANTING THE SEEDS OF TOMORROW: LUNIS KINDERWORLD IN NEPAL COMPLETED

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." – Nelson Mandela

Most, if not all, of us have some memory of being significantly impacted by a teacher. For me, it was my 5th grade homeroom teacher, Mrs. Benoit. Coming from a family full of educators, I understand the importance of schools, teachers, and a solid education on the life of a child. For those children who have the opportunity to attend school full- or part-time, many of their waking hours are spent interacting with teachers and other students in the classroom. Not only are their intellects formed within those walls (or outdoors!), but also their hearts and characters, in lessons that will last most of their lives. As you can imagine, a positive or negative experience can have significant repercussions.

Which is why, in 2016, Purushottam Karki and his wife set out with a commitment to create a loving and stimulating learning environment for the children of their rural village in Nepal...

THANK YOU, TANYA!

On behalf of everyone at WFWP USA, we would like to express our great appreciation for the amazing heart and investment of Tanya Chandler as the chairwoman of WFWP MD for the past year. She brought a lot of energy and creativity to the chapter, developing new programs such as the monthly Connect & Rekindle meet-ups, and used her passion for education to take the Leadership of the Heart series to new heights as well as launch the Cornerstone for Happiness seminar locally.

Our sister Tanya will be sorely missed here in the United States, and we wish her well as she embarks on a new adventure in England together with her husband Chris. Thank you for everything, Tanya, and good luck! We would like to share Tanya's heartfelt letter addressed to WFWP USA chairwomen below, which she wrote on July 9th, 2019...

FAMILY IS THE SCHOOL OF LOVE!

As we are approaching Parents' Day, which is celebrated nationally on the fourth Sunday of July, we'd like to take a moment to appreciate all parents for their unconditional love and care for their children, even when it gets very challenging at times. WFWP values the family as the school of love and recognizes the God-given value of women as nurturers and care-givers. In the article below, WFWP Montana Representative Marguerite Felig shares thoughts and anecdotes on these topics, drawn from two discussions that took place in Billings, Montana in the month of May...
