March 2020 - Vol. 2

Hope in these uncertain and challenging times

Dear esteemed friends,

I hope this note finds you staying in a safe place, taking care of yourself and your loved ones! There is no doubt about it: Covid-19 is affecting our entire globe, and the world and this country will not be quite the same afterward!

However, as in the last edition of the Logic of Love News, I would like to expand a bit more on the notion that there is also a silver lining and a positive side to every disaster -- or even pandemic. It is easier to notice when we sit back, turn off our TVs and radios, observe, and open the eyes of our hearts...

Support for parents is needed in particular at this time, with millions of children staying home from school due to the novel coronavirus epidemic. This article is adapted from a blog post by Coach Myrna, one of WFWP's Global Friends, who is offering a unique parenting webinar series "Mission Possible: Raising Resilient, Responsible, Respectful and Fun-to-be-with Kids," available at a special introductory price through March 2020 .

A young preschooler was trying to get his mother's attention as she scrolled through social media sites on her phone. After trying repeatedly to get her attention, the young boy finally put his hands on either side of her face. Moving her face towards him, he said, "Mommy, I need you to listen to me with your whole face"...

Women's History Month: Three great women in medicine

We owe a lot to our healthcare providers and they need our prayers now, as they are putting their own health and safety on the line to help patients suffering during this COVID-19 global pandemic. We would like to join those around the world who are applauding our medical workers and dedicate this special feature on women's history month to them, by highlighting three women who changed the face of modern medicine.

Elizabeth Blackwell (1821 – 1910)

Elizabeth Blackwell was a pioneer in the medical field, becoming the first woman to earn a medical degree in the United States in 1849. She first went into teaching, a more acceptable profession for women at the time, but made the determination to study medicine after a dying friend suggested she would have been spared her worst suffering if her physician had been a woman...

Heal Your Family, Heal the World: WFWP Georgia launches new series

Spearheaded by assistant chairwoman Celeste Koshida, Loretta Anderson and Myrna Lapres, our chapter launched a series of presentations entitled "Heal Your Family, Heal the World" in 2020. Inspired by the Cornerstone of Happiness and Leadership of the Heart curriculums, the three women developed their own presentations, drawing from their common knowledge and experience as relationship and family coaches. All three have been working with Hilde Wiemann, founder of Generation Healing and a certified coach with 25 years of experience, wisdom and investment. Through in-person programs and webinars, Ms. Wiemann addresses unhealthy emotional patterns in individuals and families, providing profound insights and practical tools to aid in the process of healing and reconciliation...

Remembering women who inspire us

"When we do the best we can, we never know what miracle is wrought in our life, or in the life of another." – Helen Keller.

We often don't realize how much of an impact we have on the lives of others who have crossed our paths, and sometimes even on those who live decades or centuries after us, on the other side of the planet. In particular, the often overlooked contributions of women in history have now come to the forefront. In anticipation of Women's History Month, WFWP USA Financial Administrator Irmgard Baynes hosted a gathering of WFWP members and local ladies at her home in New Jersey on February 22nd, 2020, to share stories of inspiring women in history...
