President's Corner

Dear friends,

Sometimes, things have to get worse before they can get better. Do you agree?

It seems like that's what's happening in our country and in many of our lives, as we are dealing with Covid-19, natural calamities, a toxic political and social environment, and inner crises. It seems to be as bad as it can get. But what is the way out, where is the hope, when will the strife and confusion end? What and where is the solution? Where shall we look for it?

As French novelist Andre Malraux (1901-1976) rightfully said, "The 21st century will be spiritual, or it will not be [at all]." And just recently I came across the book "The Rule of Benedict: A Spirituality for the 21st Century," authored by a Benedictine nun and writer, Joan Chittister, who discovers that St. Benedict's sixth-century texts in fact are currently applicable, as they directly touch on the contemporary issues facing the human community -- stewardship, conversion, communication, reflection, contemplation, humility, equality, and spiritual living in a secular world...

The Tide Will Turn! Reflections from the Second "One Million Rally of Hope"

One month after the last global rally, the Mother of Peace and Co-Founder of WFWP, Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon, held the second Global Rally of Hope on September 26th at 8:30 PM EDT. Current and former heads of states, parliamentarians and faith leaders from around the world called for peace and unity at this time when humanity is faced with an unprecedented crisis.

An estimated one million people tuned in to watch the live broadcast, including members of WFWP USA, who were deeply moved and inspired by the words of Mother Moon in her keynote address. She urged humanity to become "proper stewards of creation" and heal the earth that has been ravaged by climate change, wars and conflict. Calling on all people to return to God and completely align with their Creator, Mother Moon warned that the coronavirus pandemic was a call for us to pay attention and asked us to unite and work together.

WFWP USA is grateful to Mother Moon for her incredible leadership as a woman and role model, and we would like to share with you all some of the reflections that we received from women who attended the rally...

Poem: "MY SKIN"

This poem was written by Majestique Skeens, a 15-year-old young lady from Denver, Colorado, whose grandmother was one of the speakers at the recent Peace Road event, "Hearing the Hearts of our Brothers and Sisters of Color", in Grand Junction on August 14th. While Ms. Skeens was not able to attend the program herself, her poem was read out loud at the event by a young man, Joseph Darden.

As an African American, the author expresses her pain and the pain of her ancestors, and it is only in acknowledging these feelings and accepting them, that we are able to move beyond them as a nation and have hope for a better tomorrow.

I'm tired of wearing a mask to be acceptable in your eyes, cause if you don't see my skin you don't see me.
Why do you hate the color of my skin? Is it because she was bold enough to speak her mind;
or maybe because he had a dream, to...us.. free!
Or possibly because they stood as one when all of us were shunned...
